Type Displays

Number 2

THIS ISSUE has a display of Caslon 471 and so it is fitting that we use a similar style for comments. This old style came in 8 point, and 12 and 24 point Roman and Italic, with lots of ligatures. After using it for a book of old tyme Colonial recipes (printed by offset) the owner lost interest and sold it to me for $50.

We also have a Caslon Bold in 48, 60 & 72, and 60 Bold Condensed, lots of weight! And New Caslon 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 pt. Enough.

Danbury, just north of here, was famous as "HAT CITY" with huge brick factories. An advertising cut is shown below, but I do not recall the name.
